10th Annual
Miles for Melanoma - May 12, 2012
“Doin’ it for Deb”

Deb Sandry

Deb Sandry, a Quad Citian who was an inspiration to those who knew her. Diagnosed with Melanoma in 1994, she fought it bravely, aggressively, positively to the very end, and inspired others to do the same. She was a personality with a message, not just some person with melanoma. She made you feel good even when she didn't feel well herself. She traveled far and wide to see specialists and for treatments. She was an advocate of prevention and early diagnosis, as well as stepped-up research in search of a cure.

Out of honor and love for her, this memorial walk / fundraiser has been established, hoping to carry on her fight and raise money for research.

Make plans today to be part of this 10th annual event! Please take advantage of the wealth of information concerning the detection and prevention of this killer.
